PRICE ONE CENT.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1889.

PRICE ONE CENT.

Mutrie and His Giants Doff Their Caps for Your Work This Day.

BOSTONS WHITEWASHED.

And the Second Game a Tie After a Tough Struggle.

Beaneaters Lose the Points They Gained on Yesterday.

FIRST GAME.

SECOND GAME.

Boston -Cleveland

> Boston Cleveland

> > LEAGUE LEADERS TO-NIGHT.

29 641 40 631 Won. 70 New York 68

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, SOUTH END GROUNDS, BOSTON, Sept. 13,-The Boston and Cleveland teams started the first game of to-day at 2 o'clock. There was a high wind blowing, but the grounds were in good condition.

The batting order: BOSTON. Richardson, L. f. Kelly, r. f. Nash, 3d b. Brouthers, 1st b. Johnston, c. f. Quine, 2d b. Smith. *, s. Ganzel. c.

CLEVELAND. Radford, r. f.
Stricker, 2d b.
McKean, s. s.
Twitchell, l. f.
Teleau, 3d b.
Gilks, c. f.
Faatz, 1st b.
butcliffe, c. c.
Beatin, p.

Umpire-Mr. Curry. Richardson was the first to face Chewing-Gum Beatin, and he went out at first. Kelly his sharp, McKean making a pretty assist. Nash flew out to short. No runs. Paul Radford was the first to face Radbourn and went out to Richardson. Stricker hit safe, and then McKean smashed one to right field, going to third as the ball went over to Nash to head off Stricker. Stricker went down to second on the throw over, putting runners of Twitchell flew out to Gauzel. Radbourn tossed up a slow one to Tebeau and Patsey smashed it to the Tence for two bases, Stricker and McKean coring. Gilks flew out to Brouthers. Two Second Inning-Brouthers hit to Stricker, and was out at first. Johnston struck out and Quinn flew out to the catcher. No runs. Fantz went out at first, Smith assisting Sutcliffe flew out to Nash. Radbourn made a beautiful one-hand stop and great throw to first from Beatin's sharp drive. No runs. Third Inning-Smith led off with a safe hit to left. Ganzel hit up the first ball pitched for stricker to catch. Radbourn flew out to center. Smith stole scond. Richardson was thrown out at first by McKean. No runs.

Lasford struck out. Brouthers muffed Smith's sharp throw and Stricker was safe on first. A noor throw let him down to second. McKean is supposed to the postponed games will be played off in Chicago.

Mutric is confident that the League constitution will permit these games to be played in Chicago.

Mutric is confident that the League constitution will permit these games to be played in Chicago.

Also is not certain upon the point. There seems to be nothing in the rules which would prohibit it.

Hourth luning—Tebeau made a fine stop of felly's fast grounder. Nash intit safely to left. Bronthers flied out to Radford. A passed balliet Nash down to second. Johnston struck out for the second time. No runs.

Teleau flew out to Johnston. Gilks flew out to Bronthers. Fastz flew out to the same man No runs.

Fifth Inning—Onium went out at first. Smith.

Fresident Byrne's lock morrow.

If not, and the League lows allow it, as many amens will be played to morrow.

Mutric is confident that the League constitution will permit these games to be played to fin Chicago.

Mutric is confident that the League constitution will permit these games to be played in Chicago.

Sinch prohibit is allowed to morrow.

Mutric is confident that the League constitution will permit these games to be played to fin Chicago.

Mutric is confident that the League constitution will permit these games to be played to fin Chicago.

Mutric is confident that the League lows allow will permit these games to be played to fin Chicago.

Chicago.

It is were only something I could go out and fight, "says Mutric: "but this weather"—

And still permit the postponed games will be played to fin Chicago.

It is were only something I could go out and fight, "says Mutric is confident that the League Constitution of the postponed games will be played to fin Chicago.

It is were only something I could go out and fight, "says Mutric is confident tha Stricker to catch. Radbourn flew out to cento Broutbers. Fastz flew out to the same man No runs.

Fifth Inning—Quiun went out at first. Smith flew out to Sutcliffe and Gauzel put the first bail pitched into McKsan's mitta. Moraus.

Sutcliffe flew out to Nash. Beatin hit safely to right. Badford hit safe to centre. Stricker cracked one to left for a base, Beatin scoring. Nash made a beautiful running catch of Moraus high foul fly. Johnston made a wonderful running catch of Twitshell's long crive to lites stre. One run.

Sixth Inning—Radbourn was given his base on balls. Richardson hit to McKean, forcing Radbourn at second and going out at first on the double play. Kelly was given his base on balls, then stole second and third in great shape. Nash went out at first on Stricker's assist. No runs.

runs.

Nash made a fine pick-up of Tebeau's grounder.

Gills out at free on Oniun's assist. Fastz hit Nash made a fine pick-up of Tebeau's grounder. Gilks out at first on Quinn's assist. Fastz hit to Nash and was out at first. No runs.

Seventh Inning—The Boston team are making no showing against Beatin.

Dan Brouthers hit mp a weak fir for Butcliffe. Johnston hat safely to centre, quinn went out to lett. Johnston was thrown out trying to stead second. No runs.

'titelife flew out to Johnston. Smith made a low throw of Reatin's hit, but Brouthers got the ball on a short pick up. Eadford hit to the reats for two bases. Stricker flew out to Kelly. No runs.

Eighth Lunius Smith out a first McKenn.

Eighth Inning—Smith out at first, McKean Eighth Inning—Smith out at first. Radbourn flow arsisting. Gausel out as first. McKean arsisting. Gausel out as first. Hadbourn flow out to McKean. No runs.

McKean flew out to Kelly. Twitchell put in a single and then stole recond. Tebeau struck out. Gilks was called out on strikes. No runs. Ninth inning—Hardie Richardson led off with a sharp single to left. Kelly went out to I witchell. Nash hit to Stricker, the ball going o second and then to first for a double play, and closing the game.

It was with greatly heightened respect that he Beaucaters gazed upon the League 'Babies' at 3.30, when the latter took the field for the second game. This, by the way, was the sixteenth of the sea on's series, which then stood nine to six in Gruber and Zimmer were the battery for Cleveland. Radbourn went in again for Bes-

Cleveland. Radbourn went in again for Beston, with Bennett for catcher.
There were 3,700 spectators.
Capt. Fastz felt quite naturally elated over his decisive shut-out victory in the first game. First Inning—Gruber was wild and gave Richardson his base on balls. Kelly hit safely. Hartile went to third and Kelly stole recond. Nash hit to Fastz and Richardson was run out trying for the plate. Brouthers made his first hit in a week, two runs coming in. Johnson hit to McKesn, who made an electric double play with the assistance of Stricker and Fastz. Two runs.

Had gave Badford his base. Stricker bit to the pitcher and liadford was put out at second. McKesn contributed stingle and Larry Twitchell a fine two-bagger, two men scoring on the latter.
Telean hit to Oning, who fumbled, Twitchell

McKean contributed a single and Larry Twitchell a fine two-bagger, two men scoring on the latter.

Tebean hit to Quinn, who fumbled, Twitchell going to third.

He scored on Gilka's pretty single to right. Gilks second out, Kelly to Nash to Quinn. Fantz cloved the inning on a fly to Brouthers. Three runs.

Second Inning—Quinn went out at first, Stricker assisting. Smith put in a fine single and Bennett reach first on balls, but both were left, as Radbourn only hit to the pitcher and Richardson made third out on his hit to McKean. No runs.

Zimmer struck out. Gruber went out, Rad to Broathers, and Radford out on a sharp line hit to Nash. No runs.

Third Inning.—Kelly went out at first, Tebeau assisting. Nash out on a fly to the Canadian thirt baseman and Brouthers out at first on his hit to Stricker. No runs.

Cleve and died just as easily. Stricker out, Smith to Brouthers, and McKean and Twitchell on foul flies to Nash. No runs.

Fourth Inning.—Jounaton woks up, lining the ball safely over second. Quinn hit a short lly to I alford, Jonnon slole second and scored the tying run by lively sprinting on Smith safele hit to right.

l'alford,
Joneon slole second and secred the tying run by lively sprinting on Nulth's safe hit to right.
Bennet was hit by Gruber, but was left, as Radbourne went out to Fastz, and llichardson on a foul fly to Tebeau. One run, Tebeau lined the ball to centre where "Dicky" Johnston was in the way of it.
Gilks hit to Brouthers and retired.
Fastz then lifted the ball over the left field fence for a homer. Zimmer struck out.
One run.

fence for a homer. Zimmer struck out. One run.
Fifth Inning—Kelly was given his base. Nash sacrificed to Stricker and Brouthers to Fasts. Relly was left on third, as John 4 in popped up a fly for Gilks. Ro runs.
The Bostons were wishing that it had rained in Boston as it did in New York.
Gruber struck out. Radford reached first on his slow hit to Quinn, stole second, but was put out at the plate trying to score on Ft icket's single past short.
Richardson making a beautiful throw.
McKean third out on a fly to Smith. No runs. Sixth Inning—Quinn led off with a hit too hot for McKean to handle.
Stricker then made a double play all by himself.

He captured Smith's apparently safe line; back of first, and ran and touched first before Quinn of first, and ran and touched first before Quinn could return.

Bennett hit sharply at McKean, but was thrown out at first. No runs.
Twitchell and Gilks out on files to left and right fields.
Tebean out at first on Nash's assist. No runs.
Seventh luning—Radbourn struck out. Hichselm banged the ball on a line straight at McKean. Two out.

Kelly gave McKeon a chance to fumble, and then stole second.

then stole second.

Nash was not cound to the emergency, striking out. No runs.

Fastz, Zimmer and Radford went out on flies to outfield. No runs.

Furth ror gre s of the game, before darkness stopped it, is snown in the

SCORE BY INNINGS

National League.

delph is was postponed on account of wet grounds.

Washington and Pittsburg game postponed on account of rain.

American Association AT PHILADELPHIA.

Athletic 2 0 0 0 0 0 St. Louis 0 0 0 0 0 0 Battaries McMahon and Robinson and Royle. Umpiro-Mr. Holland. The first game between St. Louis and the Athletics at Philadelphia was postponed on ac ount of wet grounds.

Baltimore and Kanyas City game postponed

AGAIN THE WET. No Baseball in New York or Brooklyn Though somewhat convoled by Cleveland's good work in Boston. Manager Mutrie was yet greatly disappointed that he could not help at his end. The Polo Grounds were in no shape to play.

even had it cleared this afternoon.

Brooklyn, too, was again kept from playing to-day.

Two games are announced for Washington Park to-morrow, one at 10,30 a, m., the other Park to-morrow, one at 10,30 a.

at 3,45 F. M.

If the long-suffering Polo Grounds are permitted to shake off the larger part of the weather, which at present covers them, two games will be played to-morrow.

If not, and the league laws allow it, as many as possible of the postponed games will be played as possible of the postponed games will be played as the Chicago.

President Byrne's luck has continued good. St. Louis couldn't play, either. "We are the people," comes the word from Boston, and the cry, like yesterday gain on New York, is stolen. Wast till far wenther.

Comiskey talks wildly of the Browns going into the Southern Leakne, rather than pay penalties to the Association for the Brooklyn troubler.

Between the weather and the enemies of the old Polo Grounds, the New Yorks have fared badly at home this season.

Just What Advantage Is Claimed for Each Proposed Site for the 1892 Fair. Sunday's WORLD.

Had Friends There. Prom Pince. 1 Fred-You see, Albert, I gave up my Sunday-school class in order to take charge of a Bible class in the prison. Albert—You must feel a little awkward among strangers, do you not?

"Oh, I knew several of them. One of them used to be one of father's most trusted clerks, and another was at one time an old Sunday-school teacher of mine."

Photographs and Facts About Every Spot Around New York that Will Do for the World's Fair. Sunday's WORLD.

Young Napoleon's Counsel Adopts Bulldozing Tactics.

Bookkeeper Short Put Through a Harassing Cross-Examination.

Scenes To-Day in the Great Trial Before Recorder Smyth.

Trying to Prove that C. H. and D. Officials Influenced the Witness.

It was a splendid joke last week, when Ives was enjoying all the delicacies and pleasures | argument for the defense of his client. which plenty of money can purchase for a Stayner, his older and less fortunate pal, was noping on the rigid fere furnished by the Warden to "common" prisoners.

But cell 17 in the Tombs is not so cheerful, and not even the special fare afforded by the cuisine of the Tombs caterer, nor the distinction of occupying the bed lately vacated by James E. Bedell, the forger of a quarter of a million, can buoy the spirits of Henry S. ives up to their natural point of exuberance ives up to their natural point of exuberance to day.

Not yet beyond that glorious point in life when the joyousness of youth and vigor are still at their flood; at that age when the college graduate is strutting under his sleep-skin honors, his education finished, himself just emerged into the world of resility, the consistent of the structure of the sleep-skin honors. eggshell of dependence upon parents and utors cracked, and he, a fledgling, looking with wondering and inexperienced eyes upon the life which his new-found manhood coast choose; the leading strings of tutelage cast of and his yet unaccustomed legs compelled to ind-pendent action.

At twenty-two, just when most boys emerge

At twenty-two, just when most boys emerge from college or ar: just receiving their legal or medical diplomss and with them discover how little they know, how weak they are, this boy. Henry S. Ives, messenger boy, clerk, small bookkeeper and rennices, con-ceived the idea of one of the most stu-pendous frauds which ever startled the Western world. The electric sugar fraud? The Dis Debar? The electric sugar fraud? The Dis Debar? Bedell's gigantic operations? Ferdinand

Ward?
Yes, all great frauls. But electric sugar was the scheme of a scientist in a realm of which the world knew nothing: Dis Debar chested an old man by an appeal to his tenderest, most commendable feelings: Bedell had led a long life of honesty, and hal attained an unimpeachable character for prohity, while Ferdinand Ward, without the backing of some of the most honored names in America, could have done nothing.

But this stripling, with a capital stock cousisting of infinite cheek, push, energy and an active brain, after being driven out of this office and that because of the exposure of some Ward?

an active brain, after being driven out of this office and that because of the exposure of some crooked act, at lea t, in the Spring of 18%, while he is yet struggling with a downy fuzz on his sailow cheeks, achieves the feat of buying a railroat for nothing at all, and in the course of a few months the railroad is ruined, the stripling and and his older companions fail for $15,000,000, and the whole scheme of fraud is revealed, the plotters are arrested, indicted and brought to the Bar of Justice.

the testimony of the man of three-score years whom he peremptorily discharged from the place which he had held with honor and credit since ten years before the wrecker was

OBJECTIONS AT EVERY TURN OBJECTIONS AT EVERY TURN.

The testimony was objected to at every turn by ives' able legal defender. Charles Brooke, and as the objections were overturned and set at naught by that personification of the law and justice, Recorder Smyth, in short, comprehensive, understanding sentences, the smile of confidence faded slowly from the face of the middle-aged ocy defendant, and this morning, when he came down to Warden's Osborne's office from his Tombs cell, he forcet to greet benuty his Tombs cell, he forgot to greet Deputy Sheriffs O'Donnell and Whalen with the lightsome, boyish air of yesterday.

IVES CAME IN A CAB. He took his seat in the cab, rode to the brown stone temple of justice, alighted and ascended to the scene of his trial without a

For half an hour he waited the coming of the able lawyers who are striving with all the legal lore which a lifetime's practice at the bar has accumulated.

There was a pensiveness in the posture of Ives as he sat in meditation, his thin, white, long hands lying listlessly on the table before him.

Every time the swinging doors made that peculiar 'sis-s-h,' denoting that they had been opened and permitted to close again.

Ives started apprehensively, raised his bowed head and glanced that way.

"Are there any alterations in the entries in the book?" Assistant District Attorney

ALTERATIONS IN THE BOOKS. Mr. Brooke was interposing a stumbling block in the way of the prosecution, but the soft-voiced Recorder awept it out of sight, and then Frederick H. Short replied firmly:

and then Frederick H. Snort replied firmly:

'There are alterations of nearly every figure on ten (ages, and the alterations are in the hand of Henry S. Ives.

The grimase, not pleasant to see, but all that the middle-eged boy defendant has to serve him for a smile, quite departed, and is did not return again to day.

At lest, after half an hour of waiting by Ives, the three lawvers came. They walked briskly in and laid big bundles of documents done up in red tape on the table. Then they conferred with their client, and the bald, high forehead of Brooks and the fine silvergray poll of ex-Judge Fullerton met the soft, curly head of Ives, while the boy railroad wrecker whispered to these old men, honored in their profession.

wrecker whispered to these old men, hon-ored in their profession.

The minute band had travelled half way aroun i the dial of the lige court-room clock from 11 to 12 when, other business having been disposed of, the trial of Ives was re-sumed and the venerable Secretary resumed his seat in the witness chair, for Mr. Brooke had not completed his badgering in cross-examination when Court adjourned yesterday.

BOOKEEPER SHORT UNDER FIRE. "Mr. Short," began Mr. Brooks severely and with a smiling glance at the jury as if to

(Continued on Third Page,)

He Went on the Stand and Denied the Reform Club's Charges,

A Jury Finds the Alderman Not Guilty of Bribery.

It Took the Jury Little More Than an Hour to Reach the Verdict.

At the resumption of the trial this morning of Alderman Christian Goetz, of the Fighth Assembly District, on the charge of bribing a voter at the last election, Judge Cowing, of Part II., General Sessions, told the witnesses present that they must retire from the court

It was after 11 o'c'ock when Lawyer Abe Hummel, Goetz's counsel, began his opening

He referred to his client as a foreigner who whilom resident at Ludlow Street Jail, and | bad come to this country and made a reputation as a good, law-auding citizes. He de-clared that there could not justly be any inference as to his citent's guilt from the tes-timony given, and for that reason he had asked for a dismissal of the clurge squinst

Goetz.

The Reform Club's detectives may have inferred that Goetz had offered Lewis a bribe, but Mr. Hunmel said he would prove that Goetz did not offer a bribe, and would show that Detective Ramsay was mistaken when he declared that Goetz had offered a bribe to Lewis.

Officer James Cowen, of the Eleventh Po-Officer James Cowen, of the Eleventh Police Precinct, as the first witness called for the defense. He has been on the force over eighteen years, and was on duty last Election Day at the polling place of the Nineteenth District of the Eighth Assembly District with another officer, since deceased. He saw Lewis and heard him challenged, but did not hear Rumsay or any one else charge Goetz with bribery. He did not so Goetz use any money to influence voters.

Air. Jecome asked him if he had had any conversation with any of Johnny O'Brien's relatives, and he said "No" languingly.

George Murray, who was chief inspector of election at the polling-place 10 Delancey street, where the alleged bribery took place, testified that he remembered Lewis being challenged by a man named Ramsay, but that the latter did not then charge Goetz with bribing Lewis.

that the latter did not then charge Goetz with bribing Lewis.

Alderman Goetz was next called to the stand in his own behalf, and in answer to his counsel said he was forty years of age, and came to this city from Favaria in 1865. He had been an Alderman two terms.

On election day he was at all the thirty-one polls in his Assembly District, and never said his pockets were lined with money, and be was going to earry the election.

Withesa's election as Alderman cost him about $700. He swore positively that he dinot attempt to bribe Lewis nor any one else, nor ofter any money to any voter to cast his not attempt to bribe Lewis nor any one else, nor ofter any money to any voter to east his ballot for Goetz.

On cross-examination Mr. Jerome asked the accused if he had not used $3,100 to secure his election as Alderman, and the witness smiled and said "No." emphatically. Goetz said his printing cost him $300, his poiling booths, $275; uniforms for his ticket men. $175, and he expended some money in visiting the thirty-one polling places in the Eighth D strict, making about $700 in all which the election cost him.

Lawyer Hummel then closed his case and said that he was willing to submit the case to said that he was willing to submit the case to the jury with ut argument.

Mr. Jerome summed up for the People and Judge Cowing, after a brief charge, gave the case to the jury at 2 o'clock,

At 3, 20 the jury came into the court-room and said they had agreed upon a verdict. They found the necessed not guilty. Alderman Goetz was at once discharged. and left the court-room, receiving on the way the warm congratulations of his friends.

THE ATLANTA SAFE IN PORT. BUT COXSWAIN SANDERS WAS BURIED

FIFTY MILES FROM SHORE. ISPECIAL TO THE EVERING WORLD. NEWPORT, Sept. 13 .- Fears for the safety of the United States cruiser Atlanta were set at rest this morning by the appearance of the ship in this port, safe and undamaged by wind or wave.

She came into the harbor at about 10 o'clock.
But though the ship herself is safe she did not bring all her crew.
Coxswain John Sanders, who halled from Bar Harbor, died of heart disease on the trip, and was buried at sea, tifty miles off the shore. PICKED UP AT SEA.

Capt. Bull. Family and Crew of the Alay. loss, Rescued by the Yemanace.

The steamer Yemassee, Capt. Joseph McKee, arrived here to-day, and reported that at noon yesterday, while off the northeastern lightship, she picked up Capt. P. A. Bull. his wife, two children, and fourteen of the crew of the steamer Aloyloss.

The Alloyloss became waterlogged during the storm, refused to obey her helm and drifted about at the mercy of the sea. The people abandoned the ship, took to the boats and drifted about for a whole day before succor came. "Are there any alterations in the entries in the book?" Assistant District-Attorney Farker had asked of the white-harred old Secretary of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayten road.

"I object! They are not ge mane to this action, which is against Henry S. Ives for doing a specific thing on a specific day, namely: the fraudulent issuing of $600,000 worth of stock on a day certain."

"Realloyloss became waterlogged during the storm, refused to obey her helm and drifted about at the mercy of the sea. The people abandoned the whip, took to the boats and drifted about for a whole day before succording.

The Aloyloss became waterlogged during the storm, refused to obey her helm and drifted about at the mercy of the sea. The people abandoned the whip, took to the boats and drifted about for a whole day before succording.

The Aloyloss became waterlogged during the storm, refused to obey her helm and drifted about at the mercy of the sea. The people abandoned the whip, took to the boats and drifted about for a whole day before succording.

The Aloyloss hecame waterlogged during the storm, refused to obey her helm and drifted about at the mercy of the sea. The people abandoned the whip, took to the boats and drifted about for a whole day before succording.

The Aloyloss hecame waterlogged during the storm, refused to obey her helm and drifted about at the mercy of the sea. The people about at the mercy of the sea.

Sept. 13.—For Eastern New York: Rain, except in northern portion, fair weather: s'unit anary temperature: northerly winds.

The weather to-day, indicated by Blakelr's tele-thermometer:

WASHINGTON, D. C ..

Sept. 13. - For Eastern

LOTHING CARRIED OVER PROM LAST WINTER WILL

HAVE A LIVELY TIME TO-MORROW. Any man that wants a suit of clothes and does not mind wearing last year a styles, can lave from ton to fifteen dollers in the purchase of a single suit. The London and Liverbooi Clothing Company state that every vestige of clothing, hatsens farmishing goods must postively be sold to-morrow, and anything remaining over will be sent to the public suction. Among a few of the great barrains will be hundreds of menisfine cassimers suits at $5.75. Men's pent at $1.25. Fall overcoats. $4.50. Boys' fine allwood suits $1.50 and $1.75. Men's lent are lived suits $1.50 and $1.75. Men's lent and suits $1.50 and $1.75. Men's pent at London and the control of the wonderful barrains in clothing that must positively be sold by to-morrow night. London and the tempore of Captany, $6 and $8 Bowery, cor. Hester st. Any man that wants a suit of clothes and does Frederick W. Shot Dead by an Ex-Employee.

Terrible Crime in a John Street Jeweller's Office.

The Victim a Very Wealthy and Respected Merchant

Deed Done in Revenge for a Defeat in the Courts.

Christian Deyhle, the Assassin, Arrested. Pistol in Hand.

Frederick W. Gesswein, a wealthy and well-known jewelter and dealer in jewellers' supplies, was shot and instantly killed at his place of business, 39 John street, about 11 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Gesawein was in the very prime of life, not having yet reached his forty-second year. He owned much real estate, and his fortune is estimated at least $750,000. The murderer was Christian Deyhle, who formerly worked for Mr. Gesswein and is a machinist and inventor. His present a ldress is 913 Sargeant street, Philadelphia.

When he left or was discharged from Mr. Gesswein's employment some time ago there was a disagreement between them about some work for which Deyhle said he had not been paid. It is said that he went to law for redress, and not getting it determined on taking vengeance himself. He came on from Philadelphia last night or early this morning.

Mr. Gesswein lives at 823 Marcy aversas. Brooklyn. He arrived at his place of business about 10 clock this morning. His office is a small but luxuriously turshed room on the second floor of 39 John street, but he also occupies the ground floor and the one above it.

He called his chief clerk Che in his private office this morning, and they discussed business until about 10.30. As Mr. Koester left the office Deyhla brushed by him going in. Mr. Koester heard

Mr. Gesswein say: "Halloo! What are you doing here?" in a surprised sort of way, but doing here?" in a surprised sort of way, but could not hear who answer Daylie made. Mr. Koester's desk is near the private office, but he could not hear what the men

It wanted but a few minutes of 11 o'clock when he was startled by the loud report of a p stol in his employer's office.

Mr. Geswein lay on the floor supported on his right elbow. His head had fallen forward and his left His head had fallen forward and his left hand was pressed to his left breast.

He moared as his clerk entered and fell back on the floor dead.

Deyble, his face white, his teeth set, his lips bloodless and a wild glare in his eyes, steed over him with a big pisted in his right hand pointed at the fallen man.

"Den't shoot again!" exclaimed Koester, who then turned and went out for a policeman.

man.

He met one on the stairs who had been alarmed by the pistol shot and was rushing up to see what the matter was.

They found Deyhle still in the place. He as slowly putting the pistol back in his He is an old, dilapidated-looking man, and

He is an old, dilapidated-looking man, and expressed no contrition for what he had done. He was taken to the Old slip station-house. On the way he gave the following account of his trouble with Gesswein.

"I invented an article useful to any jeweller," he said, "and showed it to Gesswein, who I thought was my friend.

"He stole it.—him, and beggared me. I have two daughters married and living in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia.
"I went to law with him but got no redress. He had money and beat me. I became crazy thinking of my wrongs, and finally de-termined to come here and get justice at any Since my arrival I lived at the Jim Fisk restairant.

'I went down this morning and asked him for $100.
'He laughed at me and said: 'If I gave you that I would be as big a food as you are!"

"Then I shot him," he concluded.
Deyhle seemed dazed, but not at all anxions.
Gosswein was married and leaves a wife and six children. and six children.

Coroner Schultze rays the bullet pene-trated the left inug, causing death almost in-tantly.

He will hold a post-mortem.

Acting Capt. Doherty, of the Old slip station had a talk with the murderer soon after be was taken into custody.

"I did it, but God knows be injured me," "I did it, but God knows he injured me," said the prisoner.

"I have been here in New York for nearly two weeks," he continued, 'and have seen him (mraning Gesswein) several times.

"My invention is an appliance for the use of engravers. It is called a "refractor," and is used to throw light on the table while working. It was mine. I invented it and had it pateuted. Some time ago I introduced the arrangement to the notice of Gesswein and for a time we had business dealings together. I manufactured the articles and sold them to manufactured the articles and sold them to him.

Then he went back on me and began making the things himself. I was ignored, his took no notice of the fact that the article had been patented by me, but persisted in infringing upon my rights. He flooded the market with my invention, selling them at $1 "I then brought snit against him for in-fringement of patents. The case was tried in the United Stares Court and—well—I was in the United States Court and—well—I was beaten.

"In short, I was a ruined man, and all through what Gesswein had done.

"I went to him this morning, and had a talk with him. I asked him if he wouldn't give me $500 with which to enter the Old Man's House. He refused—and you know the rest."

the rest."

Deyle is about five feet ten inches in height, and weighs about one hundred and fifty pounds. He is sixty-nine years old and is very feeble. He was poorly dressed. Upon being searched a letter written in German was found in his possession. Deyle said he received it from Gesswein some weeks ago. It was translated, and read as follows:

Your letter of March 15 force. Williamshare.

It was translated, and read as follows:
Your letter of March 15, from Williamsburg, received yesterday.
The decision in your snit is sufficient for me. I omit an answer to your remarks. You may believe me, that I feel very sorry that you were led astray to commence a suit against me. I do not see why those two firms do not assist you.

Now, who induced you to incur those expenses? That the decision would be against you was to be expected. To free you of the idea that I intended to cut you of your income to the manufacturing of refractors my assurance herewith may satisfy you.

I probably made only 300 of the refractors, and my profit did not cover the expenses of this lawsuit. You may manufacture after this as well as before, and if you want to fill my orders promptly without any competition, and you wish to furnish me with a good article without your name and without the patent stamp on them, I am willing to cease the manufacturing of the refractor, and I promise to buy of you.

Another letter, written in German, was of the refractor, and I promise to buy of you.

Another letter, written in German, was found in his possession. It was written by him, and was addressed to his daughter in Philadelphia.

John H. V. Arnold, President of the Board of Aldermen, is counsel for Mr. Gesswein.

He told an Evening Worden reporter the cause of the the trouble between Deyhle and Mr. Gesswein.

"Mr. Gesswein," said Mr. Arnold, "met Deyhle about ten years ago, He used Deyhle's reflector and paid him for them.

"Three years ago Deyhle, on account of failing health, as he said, told Mr. Gesswein that he could not furnish the reflectors any more.

"Thereupon Mr. Gesswein let him go and and had the reflectors made elsewhere. "This augered Deyhle, who claimed Mr. Gesswein was infringing on his patent, and he brought suit in the United States Court leat year. he brought suit in the United States Court last year,

"Mrs. Gesawein was in Europe, but the case went over until June last, when, after a day's trial, Judge Brown decided that Deyhle had no patent, and that Mr. Gesswein could continue to have the reflectors made as he liked and where he liked.

"Since then Mr. Gesswein only heard from the old man once lefore to-day.

"Then he received a hegging letter which from the old man once before to-day.

"Then he received a begging letter, which he answered with a sum of money.

"Devhle was at the office before him to-day and demanded $500 to pay his entrance into the Old Men's Home.

"It was refused and he shot," concludes Mr. Arnold.

Devhle was arraigned in the Coroner's office at 1.30 this afternoon, and Coroner Schultz committed him to the Tombs without bail.

bail.

Mr. Gesswein employed twenty-eight men in his John street store and about seventy in his factory in Brooklyn.

He was a German, and had been about twenty-one years in business in this country.

A Live Electric Wire Roasts a Man to Death. People in the vicinity of Patterson's liquor store at Chrystie and Houston streets, witnessed It was the instant killing and slow roasting of a man by electricity.

The victim was Joseph Matz, aged thirty-five years, who lives on the top floor of 222 Chrystie street, and keeps a fruit-stand on the southeast corner of Chrystie and Houston streets. A leader from a gutter on the top of the liquor store was leaking and Matz climbed up the awning to fix it. This done he started to climb down again, when he slipped.

of the Board. His office was declared unecessary and was abolished.

Charges had been preferred against Mr. Higgins for certifying advertising in papers not designated by the Board.

The Mayor's Warrant Clerk, David Ryan, was placed in charge of the City Record office until a new Supervisor is chosen.

Winners at Chicago. ispeciat, to the evening worth, i Chicago, Sept. 13.—The races here to-day re-ulted as follows: First Bace - Three-quarters of a mile. - Stone-First Race—Infree-quarters of a mile.—Stone-wall first, Lulu McKce second. Zeb Ward third. Time—1,1614.—Second Race—One mile and seventy yards.—Fred. Fink first, St. Albans second. Luzzie B. third. Time, 1.47.

Third race—Mile and one-sixteenth.—Big Three first, St. Nick second. Cashier third. Time—1, 44944. . 4916

Congressman John H. McCarthy has the anpointment of a cadet to the West Point and unapolis Academies. He proposes to have a Annapolis Academies. He proposes to have a competitive examination before a gentleman from each Assembly District in the Eighth Con-gressional District about Sept. 24. Applicants will receive a medical examination free of charge from Dr. Hemingway, of 51 Market street.

Bill Nye Writes of the Trials of an Amhitious Journalist for the SUNDAY WORLD

A Receiver for a Life Association Presiding Justice Van Brunt, of the Suprem-Court, handed down an opinion to-day in which holds that the Equitable Reserve Fund Life Association has been guilty of gress irregularities and conducted its business fraudulently, and that a receiver should be appointed pending the trial of cortain issues.

Photographs and Facts About Every Spot Around New York that Will Do for the World's Fair. Sunday's WORLD.

Missing at Cap's Westervelt's Roll-Cult Policeman Scully, of the East One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street station, died this morning at his home, 238 East One Hundred and Bankers, merchants, clerks, and even ladies are making collections of foreign postage stamus to be found in Duzz's Bast Clouderres. ***

He Wins the Bridge Handicap from Eric, Diablo and Sorrente.

SHEEPSHEAD BAY RACE TRACK, Sept. 13.— There was a little improvement in the weather nd surroundings at Sheepshead Bay this afteroon. The rain ceased at intervals, but for all that the day was not a success.

For the Dash Stakes Tenny was made an overwhelming favorite, half of the bookies barring whelming favorite, half of the bookies barring him in the betting.

He was beaten, however, and very easily, by Fred Gebbard's colt Volunteer.

Only four horses started for the Mayflower Handscap, which was won by the favorite, Tea Tray, which benefited the talent to a great exteni.

The Bridge Handicap was the real feature of the day. It was a heavy betting race, with Sorrento the favorite and Eric a strong second choice. Sorrento was badly beaten. The winner, Hindoceraf, ran in the colors of his new owner, C. W. Tompkins, Mr. Tompkins and his friends won a neat sum.

FIRST RACE.

Sweepstakes for two-year-olds, at $25 each, with $1,000 abled, of which $250 to the second and $100 to the third; penalties and allowances; about three-quarters of a mile dess 50 yards).

Speed Stakes, for two-year-olds and unward, at $50 each, $15 forfeit, with $1,500 added, of which $150 to the second, $150 to third; about three-quarters of a mile less 50 yards).

The Hace.—Madstone was first to show at the start, but before they had run a furiong. Volunteer want to the front and was never afterwards headed. He won by three lengths from Terror, who was the same distance before Madstone. Time, 1.11. Mutuels paid: Straight, $61.75; for a place. $10.15; Tenny paid $6.

Mayflower Handicap Sweepstakes, for three-rear-olds and upward, at $50 each, $15 forfeit, for horses entered Aug. 15, or $100 each, $30 forfeit, for horses entered on Sept. 10, with $1,500 added, of which $350 to the second and $150 to the third; mile and three furlongs.

He grasped a live electric wire.

His clothing caught fire, and he slowly roasted.

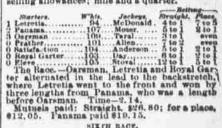

CHIEF CLERK HIGGINS FIRED.

This Cleans Out the Entire Force of the "City Record" Office.

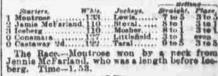

The entire force of the City Record office was disposed of this afternoon, when Chief Clerk Joseph C. Higgins was dismissed at a meeting of the Board, His office was declared unecessary and was abolished.

Bridge Handicap Sweepstakes, for three-vear-olds, at $135 for starters, $30 forfeit for horses entered Jan. 1. and $15 only if declared by Nept. 1; horses entered Aug. 15 to pay $75 for-feit, the C. I. J. C. to add $2,500. of which $500 and 20 per cent. of the stakes to the se-ord, and 10 per cent. of the stakes to third; mile and a half.

PIFTH BACE. Purse $1,000, of which $200 to the ntrance, $25 each, to the second an elling allowances; mile and a quarter.

Handicap sweepstakes, for three-year-olds and upward, at $15 each, $10 only if declared, with $1,000 added, of which $250 to the second, $100 to the third; mile and a half on the grass.

Darkyville After Dark. See the SUM-